

MEMORANDUM

To:

All Jones Archeology Site Seers

From:

Date:

Okay, you jokers, I've finally figured out what's going on with these silly made-up-names that you've been submitting as your site seer names for the official logs, even without your help. Well, I've decided to play along, so there!

As a kindness to my successor, though, I'm leaving some hints. While you're out gallivanting in your big cities, it can get pretty monotonous for those of us stuck writing your "names" on the logs for you (in hand, too!). So from now on, I'm going to carefully choose the tags I assign to your projects. That's just the SORT of girl I am, you know?
