

We've found out why the View-O-Scope isn't working. The janitorial staff just reported that two of the plugs in the Alternate Signal Processor subsystem came loose last night, but "not to worry, they plugged them back in." Guess they didn't get them right; it should have been the opposite. Unfortunately, they don't remember which two plugs got swapped. Please figure that out for us!

Photograph of ALTERNATE SIGNAL PROCESSOR